4th Grade News

This week was amazing! We had a surprise birthday party for Mrs. P. She was not at school on Thursday so we had 15 minutes to set up. It was a great party.
- Lauren

This week in reading we did a play called King in the Kitchen. I was the peasant in the play. It was about a king that thought he knew better than everyone and thought he could make a better soup with his eyes shut. He ended up making glue instead, and in the end the peasant was able to marry his princess.

In Religion, we made Lent foldables. We copied the information off of the board and they were purple. When we were done we got to color them. Lent is 40 days and prepares us for the Easter Triduum. This is a time for prayer, fasting, and almsgiving. When we give alms, it doesn't mean we have to give money, we can also give someone our time and help them out.
- Emali

Getting ready for the party was hard and difficult. It was difficult because we had to keep it a secret from Mrs. P. In the end it was perfect. Thank you parents for helping us. - Zachary

This week we are learning about LCD. LCD stands for least common denominator. It's about fraction. You understand that right? It's hard! You have to make a chart, find matching numbers, and then multiply....and you probably don't want to hear about it. Goodbye - Carter

We had a surprise party for Mrs. P! Everyone brought presents and email and I baked a cake. Lauren also baked 12 cupcakes. We all worked together to make it amazing! We decorated the library!! - Ashlyn
