We are learning about ecosystems, habitats, niches, and about the food chain. It is very fun. We are also doing an experiment about a piece of damp bread and a dry bread. - Isaac

November 11th was our Veteran's Day program. I loved the way the 5th graders were doing the gun part. It was awesome. - Danielle

In Religion we are learning about the Holy Trinity. It is the mystery of one God in three Divine Persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit. We also reviewed for the test next Wednesday. - Landon

In reading, we read a story called "So you want to be President." It is about the good and bad things about being a president. You don't have to be a certain size or shape, age, live in a certain place, or even have siblings, it takes confidence and heart to be President. - Colby

In Social, we are learning about the Southeast. They grow lots of plants in there. I love the orange juice from Florida. - Jack

This week our class had mass. We all had parts to read. All of us did an AWESOME JOB! - Corrine

Last week my grandpa shot a buck. It was huge. I never seen a buck as big as me. I hope my dad shoots a deer. - Andy

In English we are working on nouns and pronouns.

Nouns are person, place, or thing. Pronouns take the place of a noun so the word isn't repeated so many times. We are working in a packet with them in it. We love working with pronouns and nouns. Also, be careful on the roads. - Kierston

In Math, we're learning about dividing with remainders. We all like math - Keegan

Most of you have asked for a website to look up books to see if they are AR testable. Try this out. If a book comes up, it is testable, then look for the AR Pts. FYI: This is not the testing website, and tests have to be taken at school.

Veteran's Day was on Tuesday, and they did AMAZING! I was so proud of the poems they wrote themselves and the way they "owned" them while reading them onstage. Thank you to our veterans and may God bless everyone. - Mrs. P
