4th Grade News

In Reading this week, we read a story about a little girl, making a promise to a horn toad which she did not know was a prince. They made a deal and she had to follow through with it, and in the end she was on the wrong end of the bargain. The horn toad was turned back into a Prince and left her home to think about what she had promised and how rude she was to him.

Because we read a story about animals and plants in the Southwest, we decided to do a little research project, for science, on some different species. We are going to make a brochure of all the animals we researched.

In math this week, we practiced finding the perimeter of shapes. We practiced by watching a video, on a worksheet, on our whiteboards, and finished the week by walking around the room and solving the problems on our Perimeter Walk. We had fun.

This week is Fire Prevention Week. We created posters with the slogan "Don't Wait, Check the Date! Replace fire alarms every 10 years." And the teachers voted on the top three in the classroom. The winners are 1st: Joe, 2nd: Jade, and 3rd: Drake. Congratulations winners! Joe's poster is now voted on, along with the other 4th Grade first place winners in Staples Motley, and has the chance at winning a trip to Dairy Queen in a fire truck. GOOD LUCK JOE!!

We also visited the Fire Hall on Wednesday. It was a very cold walk, but it was fun once we got there. We were able to spray the fire hose, see the jaws of life, and even tour the equipment truck and the ladder truck. Check out our pictures!

The days are getting colder. Please have hats and mittens at school. We are trying to prevent sickness.
