

4th Grade News

This week in Fourth Grade we learned some things had some special visitors. On Wednesday, the Homecoming Royalty came to SHAS to represent the Cardinals. We were able to see the King and Queen, cheer with the cheerleaders, and even take the Court on in tug-of-war. We would have won, but the cheerleaders jumped in on their side when they saw the Court losing and helped pull them to victory. We were even lucky enough to take a picture with the mascot! On Friday, We waited outside to watch the homecoming parade. We were able to see the floats and the Homecoming Royalty again.

This week in Math we are learning the use of numbers and where they belong and their meaning in place value. In English, we know 4 types of sentences and are able to pick them out: Imperative, Interrogative, Exclamatory, and Declarative.

In Religion we talked about bullying and the way it can wrinkle our capes. Our Super capes are a part of our heart and our feelings are attached. Everything negative you say and do can wrinkle someone's cape, and it is impossible to make it flat, clean, or whole again. We even signed a contract and took an oath to "Be a buddy, not a bully."

Next week on Wednesday we take Fall pictures. Remember to dress up and smile pretty!!

Next week is also the Scholastic Book Fair, and on Thursday is Grandparent's Day Mass.

Grandparents are welcome to come to mass and join us afterwards for a small gathering and treats in the gym.
