

4th Grade News

Another week as come and gone. We are officially at 14 days of school. This week was a special week because we celebrated our Grandparents, took school pictures, and even had the Scholastic Book Fair all week long.

This week we are learning about Subjects and Predicates in English. We know the difference between the Complete Subject and the Simple Subject, and the difference between the Complete Predicate and the Simple Predicate.

We had an AMAZING week in Spelling!! Everyone passed the Wednesday Mid-test. That meant NO ONE had to take the Friday Final Test. Woop Woop!!! We were so excited!

In Religion, we started looking up some information about Pope Francis. Did you know that he was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina and that he is the 1st Pontiff to take the name "Francis" after St. Francis of Assisi? How cool is that?! We also learned that Pope Francis likes to cook for himself. How interesting!

On Thursday we celebrated Grandparents Day with a Mass and a gathering in the gym. We were able to share a cookie with them and then spend some time looking throughout the Book Fair and our classroom. We enjoyed showing our grandparents around.

On Friday we participated in the District Evacuation Drill. We practiced what to do if we had to evacuate the school.

Have a great weekend!
